

May 16, 2013

To Our Valued Customers:

As part of our continued growth and expansion and in order to provide our clients with a streamlined response structure, nVision Global has completed a reorganisation within the Senior Management team.

- Bob Lloyd based at the Corporate office in Atlanta GA USA, will now be responsible for Operations and Customer Support for all America's based customers.
- Dominic McGough based at the EMEA office in Ellesmere Port, UK will now be responsible for Operations and Customer Support for all Europe based customers.
- Luther Brown based at the Corporate office in Atlanta GA USA, will be responsible for all Asia based customers.

All of nVision Global's customers will continue to receive regional and global support. Our Senior Management team will continue to work together to make sure all customers receive the quality services they have come to expect and appreciate from nVision Global.

It is anticipated that this move will help streamline customer responses, as part of our Think Global, Act Local initiative.

We will be reaching out to all of you our loyal customers, to ensure that you are provided complete contact details for individuals assigned to your account from clerical to senior management personnel.

We feel our Think Global, Act Local structure will provide all of our customers the support they deserve. Thank you for your business, your loyalty and for your continued support!

Regards,

Bob Lloyd
Senior Vice President
nVision Global

